"NOT GUILTY" IS VERDICT IN DARROW'S CASE

CAMPAIGN OF KUHIO BEGINS

Chillingworth, Andrews and Mahelona to Manage His Race

With Senator Charles Chillingworth, Lorrin Andrews and S. Mahelona as the committee in charge of his campaign, Prince Kuhio arranged for the opening of his headquarters in the Kapiolani building on Monday and announced this morning that the battle is on in earnest and that from now until election day it will be carried on with unflinching energy.

"The scrap is here," he said, "and we might as well head into it for there is no use in delaying things. Headquarters will be opened on the ground floor of the Kapiolani building in charge of the committee which will manage my campaign."

The decision to open the campaign at once, was reached at a conference held at the home of the Prince in Kiki last night at which sundry and divers lieutenants and supporters were present. Among these were Joel Cohen, Charles Bartlett, Lorrin Andrews, John Lane, Senator Chillingworth, Jim Quinn, William and Eli Crawford, Carl Widemann, Tony Martin, S. Mahelona.

It was decided among other things that Kuhio would open the campaign in person in each precinct. It was at first suggested that the opening guns be fired by lieutenants but this was overruled and Kuhio will appear before the voters in each precinct.

Committee Supreme.

The committee named, was given full power to manage the campaign, secure speakers, arrange for meetings and send out literature and circulars over the islands in the interests of Kuhio.

The principal speech of the evening was made by Kuhio, who said in part: "I have been in Washington and I know the feeling that prevails there in regard to conditions here in Hawaii; it is that Hawaii is not going forward along American lines. In the opinion of the people there it is retrograding, because of the policy of the planters in trying to grab all the better lands and preventing the building up of a middle class of home builders. They are creating a feeling in Washington that the only government we are fitted for with our Oriental population is a government by commission or a military government."

Not Fighting Interests.

"I have seen this coming and I have made my fight, not because I was anxious to fight the business interests of this community, but because I believe that Governor Frear's actions are bringing nearer every day government by commission, which would take away from us our rights as a Territory. I have not opposed the legitimate interests of the planters in any way, but I have opposed them in forcing upon us an alien labor which

SUPPOSED TO BE DROWNED, LIFE RETURNS

Marine Drops Through Boat Bottom to Depths of Harbor

UNABLE TO SWIM FISHED OUT AS DEAD

Japanese Rescuers Restore Consciousness and Evade Thanks

To walk right through the bottom of an apparently sound boat, and, without warning, to exchange the view of Honolulu harbor at sunset for a chilly submarine scene, then to be fished out for dead, is the somewhat unusual, and highly unpleasant experience that fell to the lot of Private H. H. Norman, of army headquarters stable detail, yesterday afternoon. But for the bravery of a companion, and the prompt action of some Japanese fishermen, Norman would never have answered another roll call.

Norman, accompanied by Sergeant M. M. Barnwell, and two employees of the quartermaster's department, Smith and Watkins, set out for a sail last night shortly after 6 o'clock. Their craft was an old sailboat that the men around the Q. M. corral and Fort Armstrong have been in the habit of skimming the harbor in and all went well until, when well clear of the concrete dock at Armstrong, Norman stepped to the after part of the boat. He stepped none too lightly, and the rotten planking ripped out, shooting him into the water as through a trap door.

Men in Water.

In a second the boat was full and all four were in the water. All but Norman were fair swimmers, and did their best to assist him. Sergeant Barnwell, being the strongest, tried repeatedly to bring the sinking man to the boat, but Norman had swallowed too much water in his rapid plunge to be responsible for his actions, and he fought off his rescuers, finally going down when too weak to struggle further.

Just at this critical moment a Japanese fishing sampan, No. 144, came up, and one of the occupants went over the side and grabbed Norman when about six feet below the surface. The latter was apparently dead but after being bundled into the boat he was taken to the Myrtle boat house, where a hospital steward with stretcher detail was hurried on telephone information sent to Camp Verry. Rescuers Avoid Thanks.

It was half an hour before Norman recovered consciousness, the Japanese rescuers aiding in the work of resuscitation. When he opened his eyes they slipped quietly away, and went about their business, not waiting for thanks or reward.

The prompt rescue was due to the fact that the freshman crew of the Healanis were out practicing in the harbor when the men were seen struggling in the water. Jas. Lloyd, who was coaching the crew, shouted for help, as the men could not be

LACK OF SHIP HINDRANCE TO IMMIGRATION

Territorial Board Makes Annual Report—Optimistic as to Labor

NO VESSELS AVAILABLE FOR BRINGING LABOR

Officials Encouraged by Present Conditions—Among New Arrivals

Prospect of further immigration by wholesale into the Territory in the immediate future appears very dubious, according to the annual report to the Governor submitted by the Board of Immigration this morning.

The board announces that freight rates have recently become so high that it has been found impossible to charter a vessel at a reasonable figure for the transportation of colonies from Russia or other European countries, and adds that it seems now that this condition of affairs will continue indefinitely.

The report is an optimistic one, declaring that immigration thus far has, in the main, proved highly satisfactory, that only a few of those people imported have later removed to the mainland, and that a large percentage of those remaining here have become citizens and have become independent as mechanics and tradesmen.

Cost of Immigrants.

Discussing European immigration the report says in part:

"The cost of immigrants brought by the Oteric was $112,341.59, an average cost per male of $265.37, and a per capita of $77.42. The cost of immigrants brought by the Willesden was $108,297.97, an average cost of $171.06 per male and 7 per capita of $50.82. The cost of immigrants brought by the Harpallion was $117,826.13, an average cost per male of $237.75 and a per capita of $81.32. The total cost of the immigrants brought by these three vessels was $338,575.69, an av-

CARTER MAY GO TO MAINLAND FOR TEDDY

George R. Carter, chief booster for the Progressive party in this Territory and chairman of its provisional committee, may not remain in Hawaii to fight the battles of Progressivism here this fall. Mr. Carter is thinking of going to the mainland to plunge into the campaign there as a stump-speaker for Theodore Roosevelt, King of the Bull Moose.

A. L. C. Atkinson, delegate from Chicago and National Committee man for this Territory, is hurrying to the Bull Moose convention back from the Windy City and will probably head the work here in case ex-Governor Carter decides to go to the mainland.

There is little activity around Progressive headquarters. Sometimes the chairman of the committee is there and sometimes he isn't. It is no secret that some of the Progressives are disappointed that a great wave of popular enthusiasm did not greet the launching of the party here, and the prospects for a busy time this fall are not very bright.

Secretary Ballou, of the committee said frankly yesterday that he believes Woodrow Wilson will be elected president. Mr. Carter apparently has all the faith in the world that Roosevelt will be returned winner next November, but this faith does not by any means extend to all of the Progressives here.

DINES ON CANNED SAUSAGE AND DIES IN CONVULSIONS

Trooper Stricken with Potomac Poisoning and Death Comes in Few Hours

Special by Telephone to the Star-Bulletin.

SCHOPIELD BARRACKS, August 17.—Dining on canned sausage at noon yesterday, Private Albert Higgins, L Troop, Fifth Cavalry, died in convulsions in the post hospital at 1 o'clock this morning of ptomaine poisoning.

Private Higgins was a member of a patrol which had been out for three days. At noon yesterday he partook of the sausage with Sergeant Charles Hoehn and Private Joseph Foy. All three were stricken and when they reached the barracks at 1 o'clock at night the condition of Hoehn and Foy seemed to be more serious than that of Higgins. The latter grew worse, however and his death followed. The other two men are out of danger. There will probably be an inquiry as to the source of the ptomaine. The sausages, it is understood, were not part of the government issue of rations but had been purchased elsewhere.

COURT MARTIAL TO DECIDE WHEN DOCTORS DISAGREE

Charges Preferred Against Three "Vets." at Schofield Barracks

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

SCHOPIELD BARRACKS, Aug. 17.—The outcome of the discussions between Drs. Vans Agnew, Haynes and Willyoung the three veterinarians at this Post is to be a court-martial for all of the disputants.

The charges have been referred to the court of which Lieut. Colonel Robert L. Hirst, 1st Infantry, is the senior officer and Lieut. Harry A. Wells, of the same regiment, is judge advocate and the trial will probably commence on the 26th inst. The exact nature of the charges has not been made known but it is certain that they do not allege any act involving the moral character of professional abilities of the officers to be brought before the tribunal.

Each of the officers will have the assistance of counsel and, as a consequence, Lieutenant Wells will have to measure swords with three clever advisers all bent on clearing their respective clients at the expense of the other defendants.

CHINESE HELD FOR MURDER ARE RELEASED ON BAIL

Charged with Capital Crime but Attorneys for Defense Show That the Law Permits of Bond Where the Presumption of Guilt Is Not Great

Honolulu attorneys generally learned of a new feature regarding the criminal law of the Territory this morning, when Chun Kim Sut, the Chinese who, together with his wife, Chun Wong Chee, is accused of murder in the first degree, was admitted to bail pending his hearing at the September term of the Circuit Court.

Chun Kim Sut was admitted to $15,000 bail by Judge Whitney, and the woman was admitted to $10,000. The bondsmen for the accused man are Y. Annin, Hee Fat and Yee Yap, and those for the wife are Lee Chuck, Yee Yong and Pang Lum Mow. Chun Kim Sut is reputed to be worth about $50,000, and his bondsmen are all wealthy Chinese.

It has generally been thought that persons held on a charge of murder in the first degree could not be admitted to bail. This theory exploded today when the Chinaman's attorneys procured the following, taken from Section 2773 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii:

"All persons charged with criminal offenses shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offenses when the proof is evident and the presumption great."

Counsel for the defendant argued that unless the proof is evident and the presumption great, the defendant may be granted temporary freedom on bail. The court upheld this interpretation of the law, as well as ruling thereby, that such presumption in the present case is not great.

The accused man and woman both entered a plea of not guilty this morning.

Unanimous Ballot Returned To Court After Thirty-Four Minutes—Accused Man Embraces Twelve Who Freed Him From Shadow of Penitentiary

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 17.—Clarence Darrow is free. Refusing to credit the testimony of Bert H. Franklin, former deputy sheriff and the man who, as special agent for the McNamara defense, declared that he had been Darrow's tool in attempting to bribe the McNamara jury and veniremen, the jury in the Darrow case returned a verdict of "not guilty" this morning. The jury was out only thirty-four minutes. Only one ballot was taken. A short time was taken in discussion of the case and in looking over some testimony. Then the jury took one ballot, upon which Darrow was unanimously acquitted.

The scene in the courtroom following the reading of the verdict was remarkable. The jurors embraced Darrow, and Judge Hutton congratulated him upon the verdict.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 17.—Clarence Darrow, who has appeared as counsel for the labor unions in two great trials where members of the organizations have been charged with wholesale murder, was this morning acquitted of the charge of bribing a jurymen in his last and greatest case—that of the McNamara brothers, both of whom confessed to the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, causing the death of twenty-one persons.

The trial of Darrow on the charge of bribing Robert F. Bain, a McNamara juror, was due to the confession of Bert H. Franklin, who was employed by Darrow to secure evidence for the defense and who when caught in the act of bribing Bain, a sworn juror, and George N. Lockwood, an unsummoned venireman, pleaded guilty and declared that he was acting under instructions from Darrow, who, he said, had furnished the money to be used in the work of corruption. Because of his confession, Franklin escaped with a fine of $4000, which was the amount he had in his possession to be used in "fixing" jurors.

The Darrow trial has been in progress for weeks, and much sensational testimony was introduced on both sides.

The verdict of the jury followed four days of argument by counsel on each side. Darrow, speaking in his own behalf, spoke so movingly that he brought tears to the eyes of the jury. Captain Fredericks, the district attorney, closed for the prosecution yesterday. He characterized Darrow as a maudlin sentimentalist, and the labor leaders as leeches who prevent the workman from fulfilling his destiny.
